“ He will truly be missed by the African American community. Andrew was an advocate for many people in many ways. I knew him from his work with the Association of Black Psychologists and his association with the Jefferson County Public Schools where he worked along with the School Psychological Staff. He shared his skills and made many connections for those who sought out his help.

“ Dr. Jones may you rest in peace now in The Lords hands. May the Lord bless you and keep you close to his heart. You were such a special man, who was wise, caring and kind. You will be missed tremendously by so many, especially Noah and me. Now Noah has another guardian angel to watch over him. I especially won't forget all of your stories you would tell us, especially about Spice and getting hot coffee at McDonalds.
