“ We didn't spend much time together, but you made a huge impact on my life. This is a big loss. I prayed I'd run into you again on the streets so I can say Thank you. You looked out as a big brother should. Just knowing you are not out here in this world being who you are saddens me. Blood of Jesus over your soul and family. They will forever be in my thoughts and prayers. ”

“ From the very first time we talked, it was like something out of a dream. That first day we met, I knew our story was like a fantasy that only you and I would truly understand. We were so much alike, it was almost funny — like we had our own little world that no one else could see.

I can't believe you won't be just popping up out of the blue in my city and saying crazy things and making me laugh like you always did. I can't hear your voice anymore, can't tell you "you play too much". It just doesn't seem real, my beloved.

What we shared, that connection, will live in my heart forever. Rest well my love. Forever and always, Sheri Aka Kali M.
