“ Today I will help celebrate the home going of my long time childhood friend, “Will” by ushering. I will miss him, but it gives me comfort to know that I will see him again.
Rest my friend, I know without a doubt that he is in the arms of Jesus. I’ve often said and told him that his parents would have been very proud of him, in that he followed in their footsteps. Praying for you Marlene and Eric and family. “Until we meet again my friend”
