“ It's been a year today since you left this earth. Your last days were filled with confusion and pain, but most of all they were filled with the love from your family and friends, if only our love could have erased all the pain in your body and the confusion in your head. So I feel at peace knowing the the Lord took care of Everything. I'll love and miss you forever.....Margaret

“ Mama, you lived your way to the very end. At 92 you still called all the shots. You were determined that you were not moving from your home to live with any of your children nor to a nursing home. I think once the doctor told you that you had to make different living arrangements, right then you made up your mind to go live with God. You always did it your way. Love you, miss you already
