“ Growing up in a family with four generations has brought many aspects of love, respect, and responsibility. Faith was the foundation of our family and living that faith was taught and exemplified on a daily basis. We learned how to be thankful at all times...in times of abundance and in times of scarcity...knowing that our God will always provide. Even at this time of loss and grief, we can be contagious in our belief of who God is and who we are in Him. Blessings to all, Lawrence, James and Doris.
