“ Herbert, who we called Gene, was one of the best workers on our team at the VA. I remember many conversations about how to work something and we were always puzzled at how something so simple could get so messed up. Through it all he always had a smile on his face and could joke around. I will miss peeking over his cubicle to either tell a joke or ask for his expertise. My prayer is that God would give your family peace during this time.

“ Gene was a great friend and mentor to our team at the VA. He was the type of friend that knew a lot from listening to others and his vase life experiences. He always put helping veterans first no matter how hard the job was and didn't hesitate to defend his position when getting the job done. He resembled the best qualities of those veterans serving veterans' and will be greatly missed.
