“ When I became a principal (of Marshall School at 7th and Hill) in the old Louisville School System in 1971, Hughlyne was my contact in the personnel office. She seemed to know EVERY teacher in the district and she could keep track of the individual strengths and needs of all of them. She was amazingly patient and efficient, but more than anything, she was friendly and smiling and helpful. What a wonderful colleague!

“ Hughlyne was one of the first people I met when I came to Louisville in 1969 to join the Teacher Corps Program. She was a grand educator and a phenomenal woman. I am honored to have had her in my life!
