“ There are no words to describe the the hole in my heart and life. You were the real deal, a friend in deed you were there when your friends were in need. I find myself waiting for you to call if I hadn't called you to see how you are doing. ..You were the Glue that held all of us together. .The package I was going to bring to you Monday is still in my car.....Don't put off tomorrow what you should do today, had I brought you your package we would have had one last time together instead if talking on the phone. ..May God bless your family , and friends because it is not going to be easy without you. Rest in peace though Humbled Servant
