Tribute Wall

“ Max was like the older brother for many of us growing up in Mt. Lebanon. He always had a good heart and was faithful to our church and his family. We also knew not to take everything he said, or did, seriously. Of course, that’s true of most older brothers. The one thing I’ll always remember about Max is that you can overcome when life takes you down. Max never stopped getting back up. This time Max has risen up to touch the face of God. Blessings and comfort to the Bradley family during this time of transition and beyond.
