“ I wish I had met my auntie sooner. I enjoyed the brief visits I did have with her. May she rest with the Lord. To my cousins, be comforted in knowing that your mother is with our Lord now and has no more sick days and no more pain.

“ There are no words to express a passing of a love one, but there are a lot of prayers that are tax free. She is where God wants her to be. In his arms open wide saying welcome home my child. For there is piece, love, joy, and happiness in my father house. Love always from your Sister in Christ Brenda Malone

“ After my daddy, her brother Napoleon (Jack) passed away in 2004, I began calling aunt Mildred on a regular basis. We had a lot of laughs together even during her illness. I enjoyed her spirit and you could tell by her conversation she was close to the Lord and loved people. I'm gonna miss those times. To her children, don't be sad because you all took care of your mother together in her home and provided tender loving care around the clock. I know you miss her and I pray that the Lord will give you strength and encouragement daily during your time of sorry and loss. Sandra Jackson Hall
