“ My younger brothers dreams were to visit Manhattan, New York. Going to college at NYU (New York University) I don't know what he had made up his mind on what major in college but when he and I would talk it was these things, going to NYU for Art and Design, Animation, or polotics, or a lawyer. He had also mentioned wanting to join the Army reserves.

He enjoyed reading, writing, and watching stories. Stories about? Anything that made him think and form an opinion.

He'd watch stories about history, such as World War 1 and 2 and other history events.

He spent his time watching over his younger brother BJ (Bean Jean Kohler) working, or learning.

When ever me (Anthony Kohler II) and Otis would talk, it'd be about life. about the future, past, or the present. He'd teach me something about history or just what ever was going on at the time. He'd encourage me and tell me how he thinks I can do better at something or how he is going to do it and like wise I would do the same. He watched over me even though i am his older brother.

Otis and I enjoyed the Dragon Ball Series, Dragon Ball Z, and Dragon Ball Super. We'd watch them regularly and pretend we was the people in the show often. We also enjoyed Naruto.

We also enjoyed playing video games togather such Minecraft, and Mortal Kombat and more.

Otis and the family would watch movies as a family on movie night and we would have family dinners together.

Otis had a sense of humor that he , i and the family understood well. He was honest, caring, helpful, kind, hard working, and very smart.

It's really sad to see you go little brother. May you rest in peace.
