“ Patricia and my brother were classmates at Central High School. She lived in the same condo building as my mother. The last time I talked to her was when I gave her an invitation to my mother's 100th birthday celebration. Although I didn't know her well, she seemed like a kind and compassionate person. Sending condolences to the family during this difficult time.

“ Patricia was a wonderful friend. I worried about her driving her car for her safety but she insisted that it would be ok. We shared many memories about life, grandchildren and fun trips at our quilting group. She was a beautiful person physically and graciously. I will miss her friendship. I know she adored her grandson and was very proud of him. In June she reminisced about how he would come into her room when she was visiting her daughter and sit on the bed and chat as a little boy. Fond memories . I grieve with the family with their loss.
