“ From the first day that I met Mann to the last day I spoke with him in person he always had that great big SMILE on his face. He seemed to love life, his family, and especially his KIDS beyond measure. After my son Anthony(Booder), Mann's cousin, was born he made sure to include him whenever he could with family events or just hanging out. He also gave Anthony the best haircuts he has ever received to this day! When I asked if he would be willing to be Anthony's godfather he smiled and was more than happy to try his best to fulfill that role.

Mann was always nice to me and became not only my son's cousin and godfather, but my family too!

His loss is still very hard to take. Even though I had not seen him in years I am deeply saddened. So is Anthony. They had the opportunity to spend time together recently and Anthony is so grateful for that time and is even more saddened by this loss.

Our hearts go out to all of his family, and children. We are very sorry we could not be in attendance to celebrate his life but we send our love and our prayers, and hope that we all find some peace in knowing we will all get to see that bright smile again some day.

Love you all.
