“ Jimmy was a great man, I met him while working at UPS in 2001, he worked circles around the kids that worked there and taught them what work ethic meant. As slow as Jimmy moved most around most of time, when he started telling us stories of when he boxed back in the old days you had better watch out because that man could still throw punches faster than light can travel! Jimmy will be missed, he was as good a man as they come.
