“ It is hard to believe still. I spend days thinking about you and how this year we healed our relationship. We shared Mother's day together with Girls Night Out and had an amazing time. It was like old times. I miss you sis and I pray every day for your family and your children. I love and miss you so much!

“ There is no pain that Heaven cannot heal. It was an absolute shock to find out today that you were sent home. My heart goes out to your children, I taught them both many times over the years. I have had the honor of watching them grow up. My prayers are with your family and the pain of loss I know they are feeling. You are Loved, Cherished and will always be remembered. I pray for God's Healing. I am in absolute shock. I am so sorry but Glad to Know you are in the Safety of God's Arms and we will see you again in Heaven. “ My heart is heavy, my tears flow on, I'll miss that awesome smile,now that you're gone. You were always smiling and the life of the party, when you said funny stuff, everyone's laugh was harty. You were the ultimate mom wife and friend, it's hard to believe your life is at an end. But sweet and funny memories of you will forever live inside the people you touched, as we lovingly longingly think of missing you so much. God definitely has a funny bone cause he gave us you, and now without your humor what shall we do.It's too late to tell you if we haven't said it before, but you were loved, and you brought sunshine and more, Miss you my beautiful friend. .

“ Shannon was a sweet person with a great smile. She was my little cousin's stepmom and never treated them any different always looked out for them always willing to help. She loved my grandmother just like she was hers also never went to church without stopping by the house to check on her. I loved her for that alone. I'm still so in shock and disbelief but want the family to know if there is anything we can do please let us know. Praying for the girls and all other family. “ I had the honor of working with Shannon when she was a 911 dispatcher. She had such a gentle soul and the most beautiful smile and personality a person could have. She also stepped in at the last minute this past May and filled a vacancy I had during derby week dispatching limos. May God give her family peace and comfort her family.

“ Shannon was one of my best friends at Moore High School. We shared so many good times and took plenty pictures cuz we loved to dress alike!! I'm so thankful that I was able to reconnect with her on Facebook and reminisce. I'm very sad to hear of her passing but I find comfort in knowing that she was saved. My condolences to the family

“ God's newest angel! Such a sweet spirit! Your family is in our hearts and prayers. To the family, if there is anything we can do just say the word. Chris & Kennesha Campbell
