“ Momma, some days are better ok others are unbearable. There are days and night I miss you so much I just cry. When I look at fast man and my heart breaks when I think of all the thing you both will miss out on. I cry when I think about him not knowing his granny the way Dominique does. Rest assure that the will know who you are. The loving, caring, funny, crazy cardinal fan and everything else about his granny. We love you and miss you everyday.

“ I just had my first birthday with you an I must say it was a bitter sweet day. On my birthday 1 year ago was when you was diagnosed with stage 4 lung cancer and giving 1 year or less to live. Those words wil forever ring in my ears on my birthday, the day I came into this world was the same day I was told my mother has 1 year or less to be with me. I cry for you everyday and you visit me just about every night when I close my eyes. I got the message that you sent to me. It was a hard message for me to hear but I will do what you want an continue to make you proud of me. My soul and heart my never recover from losing you.

“ To my sister Nonnie, Ann and I feel the deepest sadness at Sherry's passing. We cannot imagine the pain you must be experiencing but marvel at the courage and strength you have shown. All we can do at times like these is continue to believe God has a divine plan and pray every day to thank him for being a part of that plan. We love you and will continue to keep you in our prayers as always. Love You, Johnny and Ann

“ To "Nonnie" Puryear and Williams Family...I was shocked and sad to hear the news of Sherri's passing. The Puryear family were childhood friends of mine & my family (The Taylor's - Bobby, Lawarren, Curtis, and myself) in Southwick. Sherri was always delightful and full of fun. Cherish the memories you have of her always. She is absent in the body, but present with the Lord. She will live on in your hearts. May God bless and comfort you during this time of sadness.

“ My prayers and condolences goes out to the family. Sherri will be missed by many but take out the time to think of the smile she wore or the one she put on your faces or the advice she gave even when you didn't ask. For when you think of those things lets you know she is still in your hearts God bless you all
